PREFACE

It is my honor to now present to you the second volume of newspaper abstracts from The Butler Herald. After reading thirty four years of weekly news, I feel I know each Taylor County family on whom the paper reported, like my own. Names became so familiar toward the end that I was celebrating the births and marriages and enjoying the trips hether and yond. I became sad over the deaths and concerned over the sicknesses that every family experienced via the news. I almost feel like I belong at each family reunion.

As with any such work I am sure there are errors, but I have tried to be as accurate as I could. Please check all possible spellings of the names you are searching. There are a lot of variations on some surnames.

I hope somewhere in this volume you find a little something about your family that delights you, adds new information to your search or confirms what you already knew. I dedicate this book to my grandparents, Earl and Bessie Cox Neisler, who lived at Fickling's Mill for over forty years and were members at Crowell Methodist Church.

My thanks to the Central Georgia Genealogical Society for allowing me to share this information with you. So go and enjoy.

Butler while living at Monroe, La. i n 1882, lost by death his wife. Since that time except for 2 years, 1886 and 1887, while Capt. Butler's home was in Fla., Miss Nonie lived with her aunt, Mrs. N. Norwood of Simm's Fort, La.. She was a very small girl when her mother died and for 9 years did not see a member of her father's family. The meeting Friday afternoon was very pleasant to all the family and all who witnessed it.

Kickapoo, Texas-J.D. Brown writes letter to the paper. States he is the son of Thomas H. Brown who once lived in Butler. J.D. Brown was born in Butler Dec. 19, 1858, 40 years ago. Had neighbor whose name was David O. Smith. Brown was named for him. "Uncle Dave" gave J.D Brown, when 5 days old, a 50 cent silver coin dated 1858 and the coin had 2 prominent marks on it so that he would know it from other money. When 6 years old he was allowed to spent the money. He spent it with merchant Thos. Waters who later married his cousin. Brown thought no more about the coin until a few days ago when in Jacksonville, Texas. When making change a 50 cent piece was given him with the same date and the 2 private marks in the same place on the coin. It is no doubt the same coin. He will keep it the remainer of his life and will leave it to his oldest son.
